

HOW TO PAY THE ROTARACT CLUB CERTIFICATION FEE

Certifying a Rotaract club requires a one-time US$50 fee, payable by check, credit card, or bank transfer. First, check the exchange rate and calculate the total in your country's currency. Note that there may be additional transaction fees or service taxes, depending on your country; contact the Rotary International office that serves your area for more information about these fees.

- To pay by credit card, contact your district's financial representative. Once you've paid, send your certification form and proof of payment to rotaract@rotary.org.
- To pay by bank transfer, find the appropriate bank information in the table below. Give your financial institution the bank information and the name of the Rotaract club, sponsor club, and district. Once you've paid, send your certification form and proof of payment to rotaract@rotary.org.
- To pay by check, make the check payable to Rotary International and mail it to the appropriate Rotary International office, along with your certification form.

When Rotary receives the certification form and proof of payment, it will take four to six weeks to charter the club and prepare the certificate. Rotary will send it to the sponsor Rotary club president or presidents to sign and present to the Rotaract club. We recommend that you verify that we've received these documents by writing to rotaract@rotary.org.
